

Elements of a Data Management Plan [1]

Submitted by administrator on Wed, 2013-03-06 10:24 Overview:
In the module "Why Create a Data Management Plan?" we learned that it is just as important to plan how you will manage your data as it is to plan the rest of your research activities. Given that, your next question is likely to be "Well what should be in a data management plan?" Answering that question, at a high level, is the purpose of this module. In the following slide we give a brief description of each of the components or elements of a plan.
